

—Special Presentation—

Connecting the past to the future with your new library

Understanding Nobscot's Past; Building its Future

Join us for a fascinating glimpse of local history as we trace the past and future of library buildings and activities in Framingham. Amy Finstein, Architectural Historian, will detail the history and evolution of the Nobscot neighborhood of Framingham. We will examine the history of library buildings in the area and the many focal points that have defined this neighborhood, including the Christa McAuliffe branch library. Christa McAuliffe's mother, Grace Corrigan will speak about raising Christa in Nobscot/Saxonville and what the library meant to her. Finally, Sam Klaidman, Library Trustee and Chair of the Building Committee will describe the proposed new library design and layout.

JUNE 14th, 2011 6:30PM TO 8:00PM

HERITAGE AT FRAMINGHAM

747 WATER ST., FRAMINGHAM, MA

Please RSVP to 508-665-5300

This is a
FREE
Lecture

Amy D. Finstein
Architectural Historian,
Massachusetts College of Art and Design

Sam Klaidman
Library Trustee and Chair,
Building Committee

Grace Corrigan
Mother of Astronaut
Christa McAuliffe
Author of —"A Journal for Christa"

Build the New McAuliffe Library
Open the door to tomorrow.

Presented by the Framingham Library Foundation and hosted by Heritage at Framingham